ELMER PATTEN DIES IN ERIE ENGINE CRASH

Succumbs in Ambulance En- route to Hospital After Ken- ton-Av Accident

FORD TRUCK DEMOLISHED

Victim Employed as Driver for H. C. King Lumber Co.; Wife Survives

Elmer Patten, 52, 614 Lee-st, driver of the H. C. King Lumber Co. truck, was instantly killed at noon today, when his truck was struck by the engine of Erie Train No. 5 at the Kenton-av crossing. He died of injuries a few minutes after the crash enroute to City Hospital in M. H. Gunder's ambulance.

Mr. Patten was returning to the lumber company after taking lunch at his home when the fatal accident occurred.

Engine Cut Off

The engine had cut off at Union Station and was headed for the Erie yards. Mr. Patten was driving his truck south on Kenton-av. The engine struck the front part of the machine and carried it, with the driver, a distance of 50 feet from the crossings before coming to a stop. Mr. Patten was taken from the wreckage and died before he could be rushed to the hospital.

While there is a watchman at the crossing, all efforts to get his version of the crash were futile.

The Ford truck was completely demolished.

Mr. Patten was taken to the funeral home of the M. H. Gunder Co. He has been in the employ of the H. C. King Lumber Co. for more than a year. He is survived by his wife and father.

IDENTIFY ARRESTED MAN AS ALLEGED MURDERER

Clothing Found in Room Cor- respond to Descriptions Given, Police Say

Newark, Feb. 9—A man held in the county jail here, today was indentified as the bandit who shot and killed Homer Robinson, grocer after robbing him of $600. The identification was made by Gilbert Foley, and Max Markham grocery employes present during the holdup.

The prisoner, booked under a police alias of Tom Smith, was arrested Tuesday night at Lancaster. Clothing found in his room, police say, corresponds to clothing described by Foley and Markham in reporting the robbery.

Rewards totalling $1,700 were posted after Robinson's death. He was shot when he reached for his hip in compliance with the robber's demand for his money. The $600 represented the day's store receipts.

SENATE VOTES AGAINST RECONSIDERING COURT

Motion of Floridan Tabled, Thus Killing Proposal; Borah, Robinson Urge Action

Washington, Feb. 9—The senate voted overwhelmingly this afternoon against considering the questions of American adherence to the World Court.

A motion by Senator Trammell, (Democrat) of Florida, to discharge the senate foreign relations committee from further action on his resolution withdrawing the United States from the court was tabled by a vote of 50 to 10. The action of tabling in the senate kills any proposal so treated.

Both Senator Robinson (Democrat) of Arkansas, the minority leader, and Senator Borah (Republican), of Idaho, leader of the anti-court fight, urged this action.

Grand Jury Indicts 4 Marion Youths

Recommendations of County Grand Jurors

THE grand jury wishes to recommend to the public of Marion County as follows:

"Parents should see that their children receive religious training by attending church services regularly.

"Their children should be encouraged to take part in Boy Scout movements, Y. M. C. A. work and all athletic activities.

"Parents should occasionally take their children to a show.

"Children will respect their parents' wishes more if the parents devote more time to them.

"Children should be allowed to attend shows and parties occasionally, but not too often.

"Parents should at all times know where their children are and whom they are with.

"Parents should restrict the use of the family car, or their own car, and not let children have the use of the car at night except when absolutely necessary.

"The entire community should take more interest in the welfare of the youths, and the public at large in its sympathy for the criminal, should not forget its duty to society, and that without the enforcement of law and the punishment of criminals, the very foundations of society must fall."

Chinese War Zone Spreads, State Department Learns; Yanan-Fu Revolt Reported

"Fighting Appears Inevitable," Dispatch from Consul Myers Declares; Eight Americans in City, Together with 6,000 Troops; Cantonese Renewing Drive

Washington, Feb. 9—The Chinese war zone is spreading, according to dispatches to the state department today.

Consul Myers at Yunan-Fu reported that a revolt has broken out in the province of Yunan, hitherto but little effected in the civil strife, and that "fighting appears inevitable". There are 6,000 troops in the city.

Eight Americans are in Yunan-Fu, according to the dispatch.

CANTONESE RENEW SHANGHAI DRIVE

Shanghai, Feb. 9—The Cantonese armies today renewed their drive toward Shanghai.

Both sides were rushing large bodies of reinforcement to their lines, and the heaviest fighting of the present campaign was reported in the vicinity of Lanchi and Yenchow.

A message from Hankow said the Cantonese were dispatching fresh troops from Kiangsi and Szechuen provinces to the aid of their armies in Chekiang. It was estimated that more than 10,000 of these troops were being sent in commandeered foreign Chinese and foreign steam ships.

General Sun Chuan-Fang is recruiting 3,000 fresh soldiers in Shanghai. So far, Sun has not given ground, despite the severity of the fighting.

Negotiations Continue

The negotiations between Eugene Chen, Nationalist foreign minister, and Owen O'Malley, British charge d'affairs were continued today, a message from Hankow said. The Nationalists declared favorable progress was being made.

At least a temporary impasse in the Shanghai municipal elections was encountered today when the Chinese Taxpayers' Association, which is entrusted with the election of three Chinese members on the Shanghai municipal council, proposed that instead of the three,

MARION HOTEL PORTER CAUGHT BY ELEVATOR

Wilbur Baker Victim of Acci- dent This Afternoon; In- juries Undetermined

Wilbur Baker, colored porter at the Marion Hotel, was injured, perhaps seriously, at 1:30 this afternoon, when he was caught and crushed between the elevator floor and the side of the shaft.

Baker was held prisoner for 15 minutes with his legs fast between the elevator and wall just below the second floor while firemen and employes strove to free him. With axes and wrecking bars firemen finally tore away the wall above the first floor elevator door, and released the man's legs.

He was rushed to City Hospital in the C. E. Curtis ambulance, where the full extent of his injuries had not been determined.

How the accident occurred could not be determined, as Baker was unable to talk, being nearly unconscious, and he was alone in the elevator when the accident happened. The man was caught just after the elevator passed the second floor on the way down, it is believed. Women working on the second floor did not see the elevator stop there, they said, and the first they knew that Baker was on the elevator was a loud crash, and Baker's screams.

A call was sent in for the fire department, and apparatus from No. 1 engine house responded. It was found impossible to move Baker, or to move the elevator without injuring him more, and firemen then smashed through the wall above the first floor door, cutting through joists and lath to free him.

FORD SAYS FUTURE HAS PROMISE OF PROSPERITY

Industrial King To Visit Thomas A. Edison on Lat- ter's Birthday

Washington, Feb. 9—Business conditions in America are "as solid as rock," Henry Ford declared today after a visit at the White House where he called to pay his respects to President Coolidge.

Ford looks for no diminution of industrial prosperity in the near future.

He declared that prohibition "ought to be here to stay."

A survey among his own employes showed that they have done much better work without alcohol, he said.

Ford leaves this afternoon to visit Thomas A. Edison, who will be 80 years old on Friday.

THIRTY-FIVE ENLIST

Citizens Want to See Service in China; Go to 15th Infantry

Columbus, Feb. 9—Thirty-five men have enlisted in Ohio for service in China, since the call for volunteers was issued Feb. 1, according to Lt. Col. Alfred Bellis, recruiting officer at Fort Hayes. Hundreds of applications have been made, nearly all coming to the recruiting officer, but only three-fourths of these are being accepted.

The number of men enlisted in the Ohio infantry unit now being organized at Camp Grant, Ill., is expected to reach 1,000 by March 1. Officers of the Fifteenth infantry are now in Columbus to examine the applicants before they are sent to Camp Grant.

SOLUTION TO CRIME WAVE IS RECOMMENDED

Urges Closer Contact Between Parent and Child and Church Attendance

APPROVES ATHLETICS

John and Arthur Erwin, Albert Simpkins and George R. Kesselring Named

Four Marion youths were indicted by the Marion County Grand Jury which ended its two day investigation of juvenile crime late Tuesday afternoon. Those indicted are:

John Erwin, 18, and his brother, Arthur Erwin, 20, Albert Simpkins, 18, and George R. Kesselring, 19.

The grand jury examined 17 witnesses during its two-day investigation and summarized its study of the juvenile crime wave which has brought 15 boys into tolls of the law, in a report which it presented to Judge George D. Seofield.

Closer supervision of children by parents was urged by the grand jurors in this report. Restriction of the use of automobiles both family and belonging to children themselves, should be exercised by parents, the report pointed out. Too much sympathy for criminals, the grand jurors said in conclusion is also not consistent with enforcement of law and proper punishment of criminals.

Arraignment of the boys indicted probably will take place Friday or Saturday, unless they waive the usual procedure and agree to be arraigned at once.

John and Arthur Erwin were each indicted on two counts. John Erwin is charged with breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling, stealing and concealing stolen property.

Arthur Erwin is charged with burglary of a building at night, larceny and receiving and concealing stolen property. The robbery charged to him occurred the night of Dec. 21, when the Leroy Fetter filling station on Mt. Vernon-av was entered and goods valued at $69.00, including tires, spark plugs, candy and a shotgun, and $10 in cash were taken. John Erwin is charged with stealing a revolver from the home of Robert S. Humor, Jan. 1, 1927.

Albert Simpkins was indicted on a charge of robbery, in connection with the holdup of Alex Walter, N. Main-st grocer the night of Jan. 7. Harold Huggins, 15, who confessed to a part

M'NARY-HAUGEN FORCES CONCENTRATED ON DRIVE

Supporters of Farm Relief Measure Confident That Coolidge Will Sign

Washington, Feb. 9—Confident that President Coolidge will sign the McNary-Haugen bill, farm relief forces extended their battle lines along the entire congressional front today, determined to settle the four-year-old issue within a week.

With the senate engaged in sporadic debate on the measure under an agreement to vote on Friday, the house also took up the bill. Farm bloc leaders claimed a clear majority in both houses.

Rep. Haugen, Republican of Iowa, co-author of the bill, took issue with the prediction of Senator Vare Republican of Ohio that Mr. Coolidge would veto the bill.

"I've talked farm relief with the president many times," said Haugen. "I believe we have removed all of the objectionable features of the past bills and I think he will accept the verdict of congress."

The next presidential campaign appeared certain to be injected into final debate on the bill as a result of the last-minute plea of Ex-Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois for the equalization fee. Opponents of the bill declared that Lowden's declaration was the first specific endorsement he has made of a pending farm relief bill and defined the measure the "Lowden-for-President" platform.

INJURIES FATAL TO 12-YEAR-OLD CLARIDON GIRL

Lois Wittred Dies Shortly After Being Struck by Auto- mobile

COMPANION ESCAPES

Accident Occurs as Lecture Course Audience Is Leaving M. E. Church

Injuries received when she was struck by an automobile while crossing a street last night in Claridon, eight miles east of Marion, proved fatal almost instantly to Lois Wittred, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wittred, two miles southeast of Claridon.

The accident occurred directly in front of the Claridon M. E. Church about 9:30 o'clock. The girl died a few minutes later in at the office of Dr. L. H. Britton, physician. She sustained injuries to her chest, head and face.

Had Attended Lecture

After attending a lecture course number at the church, Lois in company with Frances Kramer, had started across the street to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Wittred, where the two were planning to spend the night. A Chevrolet sedan driven by Carl Lehner, of near Claridon, was approaching from the east. The Kramer girl saw the car and attempted to warn her companion, who stepped directly in its path.

Lehner stopped his car and with the assistance of those nearby placed the injured girl in the car and rushed to the physician's office.

The accident victim was a student in the eighth grade of the Claridon schools. She is survived by her parents, grandparents and one sister, Ruth. The body was removed to the Homer Tinson undertaking establishment at Caledonia. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.

IMMEDIATE SEATING OF SMITH RECOMMENDED

Senate Elections Committee Also Urges His Subsequent Exclusion from Body

Washington, Feb. 9—After a lengthy investigation of precedents, the senate elections committee decided informally today to recommend the immediate seating of Senator-Designate Frank L. Smith, Republican of Illinois, and to recommend further his subsequent exclusion from the senate because of his expenditures in his November's senatorial primary.

The committee failed to take final action in the case because of a disagreement over the manner of writing its report to the senate.

A majority favored letting Smith take the oath of office as soon but then to declare his seat vacant. Minority reports probably will be filed by some members of the committee protesting against both decisions.

The committee will meet again tomorrow.

PROHIBITION TO BE BIG ISSUE IN CONVENTIONS

Leaders of Both Political Par- ties Deplore Oncoming Si- tuation Next Year

BUTLER SPEECH WORRY

Borah and Other Dry Republi- cans Hasten To Accept Educator's Challenge

Washington, Feb. 9—Prohibition is to be a controversial issue in both the Republican and Democratic national conventions next year—perhaps the big issue.

This was universally accepted in the capital today by leaders of both political parties. They deplore it, or most of them do, but say they do not see how it can be kept out.

The Democrats, of course, have been headed for a wet-and-dry fight in 1928 ever since Madison Square Garden, and the Republicans had been congratulating themselves that they would "let the Democrats hang themselves" on the hooks of that controversy.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's assumption of the leadership of the Republican wet wing, and his assertion that no man can be elected in 1928 who does not take a stand against the Volstead law, has changed the party outlook. Republican drys, headed by Senator Borah, Republican, of Idaho, fairly fell over themselves today in their eagerness to accept Dr. Butler's challenge to thresh it out in the Republican convention next year.

The Issue Cast

"The Republican party, as a party, should unmistakably declare itself on this question," said Borah, "and I shall contribute in every way I can to force the issue to a final conclusion in the next convention."

The die thus appears cast in both parties.

Outstanding Republican wets of the type of Senator Wadsworth of New York, and Senator Edge of New Jersey, while they indorse Dr. Butler's position, rather deplore injection of the issue into the '28 convention. They think it is too soon. They believe that sentiment against the rigors of prohibition is growing rapidly, as reflected by the referenda in various states last November, and that given another four years perhaps and a wet victory would be easily obtained.

Some of the Democratic wets believe

Baseball Idol Sets Aside Income; Wages To Increase If He Is Released

New York, Feb. 9—The sum of $52,000 was said to be in deposits to the credit of Babe Ruth, baseball star of the New York Yankees, as the result of a trust fund established by the player and his wife, it was learned today. The fund, which is said to have been created recently, is composed of $2,000 annual payments which Ruth will receive from the Yankees for the next 25 years, and $2,000 annual payments for 17 years, which will be paid by the Yankees to Ruth after he retires from baseball.

LOCAL OWNERS MAY NOT SELL STOCK CONTROL

Refusal To Grant Time Exten- sion to Prospective Purchas- ers Complicates Deal

AWAIT FURTHER WORD

Period for Closing Transac- tion Involving City's Largest Industry May Be Extended

Refusal of the Marion Steam Shovel Co. to grant an extension of time in the option held by Blair & Co., New York investment brokers, today left the entire sale of the local plant hanging in limbo.

Blair & Co., unable to gain the time extension, agreed to forfeit its option which automatically becomes worthless after Thursday.

Officials of the Steam Shovel concern late this afternoon, however, had received later word from Blair & Co. As a result of this message which stated that with a time extension the deal might be consummated, Marion officials were considering the advisability of extending the option.

After several weeks of speculation as to the effect upon the business and industrial life of Marion, and considerable fear of the results, many of the larger stockholders today seemed gratified that the sale is not to be consummated.

Stock Turned Over

It is understood that every share of the stock had been turned over to the Marion National Bank as escrow agent, although a great many of the owners of the stock expressed it as their preference that the company should continue on just as it has been, owned and operated by local men.

Frank A. Huber, president and treasurer of the company, and Charles D. Ising, general manager, said this afternoon they could add nothing to the first New York message.

They expressed no regret, however, if the sale should not be consummated.

Definite announcement of the negotiations between the New York financiers and the local company probably will be made Thursday or within the next few days.

Steam Shovel officials said no cash consideration was involved in the option. In reply to the question as to why no cash guarantee or money forfeitures clause was provided in granting the option, officials of the company said that they had not at any time felt keenly the desire to dispose of their holdings and control of the operations.

With one panel, or 50 persons, examined and 10 jurors tentatively seated in the box, a new group of 50 was and 12 others were on hand today to undergo questioning as to their fitness to serve.

HEAVY PROFIT TAKING MARKS STOCK EXCHANGE

Caused By Sharp Break in Speculative Railroad Stocks

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks, strong; industrials, firm; foreign bonds, irregular; foreign exchange, irregular.

New York, Feb. 9—A sharp break in the speculative railroad stocks shortly after the noon period today resulted directly from the heavy profit-taking and speculative selling of the stocks which have been at the head of the raging bull market in the last two weeks.

Sudden withdrawal of the bids from the shorts in Wheeling & Lake Erie common caused a 39-point drop in that stock, which sold at 66, against the opening price of 105, and yesterday's high at 138. The preferred stock declined about 14 points and the volume of sales was comparatively small. Encouraged by the action of the Wheeling directors in asking for a new common stock issue of 222,276 shares, the shorts in the stock decided to "sit tight" and await the exchange of their preferred stock into common.

MAN, STARVING, MURDERS FIVE; THEN TAKES LIFE

Warsaw, Feb. 9—Leaving a letter declaring "death is better than starvation," Stefan Maslany, an unemployed stonemason, today shot and killed his wife, his mother-in-law, two brothers and a sister, while they slept. He then committed suicide.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 9—Cotton prices opened today, up 1 to 4 points. March opened at 13.87, up 01; May 14.10, up 02 and July 14.34, up 04.

REMOVE LOUD SPEAKERS FROM PARIS STREETS

Paris, Feb. 9—Little midinettes will no longer spend a part of their lunch hour in front of the radio shops listening to the free concerts provided by the loud speakers which broadcast their music on every street-corner of the shopping district.

Monsieur Berthier, Director of Circulation, has given orders to remove all the loud speakers in the streets declaring that traffic is only too difficult to direct as matters stand now without people blocking up the sidewalks. Then too, he remarks, the noise of the capital is certainly sufficient without this music.

More than 200,000 sparks fly off the radium dial of a watch every second. One grain of radium mixed with zinc sulphide crystals makes enough "paint" for 65,000 watches. The atoms of radium explode and send out helium atoms. Whenever one of these strikes a zinc sulphide crystal it makes a spark, just as a horseshoe does in striking a cobblestone.

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

Tomatoes are scarce and the demand does not seem to be overly strong. Shipments of California tomatoes are light, despite the price of 35 cents a pound, in comparison with the price of hothouse tomatoes, 55 cents a pound.

Supplies of grapes, both red and white varieties are very light on the markets. The price is 35 cents a pound, but demand is not strong. Grapefruit is selling heavy at prices ranging from 10 cents to two for 25 cents.

Meat prices remain unchanged, with pork and beef products steady. Butter and egg prices are the same today, eggs holding steady after drops that brought the price of strictly fresh eggs down to 41 cents a dozen. CITY NOW IN MILLION DOLLAR CLASS, CLAIM

Report Shows Marion's Total Expenses in 1926 Reached $1,027,273.08

Marion's municipal government is now on the million dollar class, according to a report filed yesterday with City Auditor J. L. Landes by State Examiner George T. Dustman, of Bucyrus, showing that the city's expenditures for all purposes during 1926 totalled $1,027,273.08.

The figures are included in a schedule of the city's financial transactions during last year compiled by Mr. Dustman, who was here several days compiling the report for the state auditor. Similar schedules, giving a complete and detailed summary of municipal receipts and expenditures, are made in all Ohio towns and cities. After being filed with the state auditor, the reports are combined into a comprehensive statement giving totals for the entire state.

Receipts for Year

Receipts from taxes and other sources amounted to $983,610.78, the report on local city transactions showed. Thus it is seen that revenue fell $43,632.20 short of the total expenditures. This was due, it is explained, to a deficit in the sinking fund which necessitated sale of sinking fund investments amounting to $44,919.95 to meet bonds and interest falling due during the year.

Operating expenses of the various offices and department amount to $349,342.60, the remainder of the $1,027,273.08 listed as the city's total expenditures having consisted of payment of debt and interest and the cost of street improvements to be paid by special assessments.

City Earnings

Not all of the $349,342.60 designated as operating costs was paid from tax revenue, the schedule showing that a number of the city departments had earnings and other receipts totalling $79,130.90, leaving a net operating expense of $270,205.70 to come from tax funds.

The largest items included in the list of departmental receipts were $44,461.14, derived from City Hospital operation, $17,140.95, earned by the city garbage collection service and $12,993 in fines and fees collected in the mayor's court.

City's Share

The city's share of collections from the sale of automobile licenses was $21,515.31, from gasoline tax $20,924, from inheritance tax $14,445.06 and from cigaret tax $376.52.

Street lighting expense during 1926 was $28,890.11 and hydrant rentals totalled $21,315.42.

Street cleaning was not carried on very extensively last year, according to the report, which shows that only $457.24 was expended in this important department. No money was appropriated for this purpose for 1927, indicating that if any cleaning is done during the next 12 months, the expense will have to be paid by property owners or some other means of financing devised.

Cash Transactions

The schedule compiled by Examiner Dustman shows actual cash transactions, all transfers and other duplications in the records having been eliminated. Although his figures show that actual cash expenditures last year exceeded receipts, there was a substantial amount of funds in the treasury at the close of 1926, due to the fact that the year started with a large balance.

After completing his work here yesterday, Mr. Dustman left for his home in Bucyrus, from where he will go to Mansfield to complete an examination of the city accounts which has been in progress for several months.

An examination of Marion's city records is expected to be made some time this year.

TWO CHINESE ARRESTED IN CLEVELAND DOPE RAID

J. J. "Two Gun" Murphy Discovers Opium Sealed in Walls of Building

Cleveland, Feb. 9—J. J. "Two-Gun" Murphy, star operative of the federal narcotic service and enigma of dope peddlers throughout the middle west, staged another spectacular raid here early today, capturing opium and other narcotics valued at more than $3,000. Two Chinese were arrested.

The opium was found sealed in the walls of a building which is believed to be the distributing point for a large group of narcotic smugglers here.

Murphy raided an opium den here Monday and captured a white woman and four Chinese, besides a large quantity of drugs. It was one of the few times in the history of the service that Chinese failed to spirit away any white female "guests" when a raid was made.

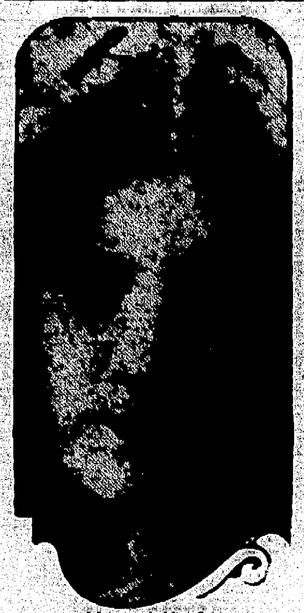
BEHIND THE SCREEN



OLIVE BORDEN

Film stars usually manage to get a thrill out of new roles but Olive Borden was unusually excited when she was chosen for the lead in "The Joy Girl," because it meant a trip from Hollywood to New York which she had never visited. It also meant a winter in Florida for most of the scenes are to be shots of resorts there. Verily three movie folk lead a hard life. Ned Hamilton, who played the juvenile lead in "The Music Master" plays opposite Miss Borden.

FIRST NATIONAL is going ahead with its plans to film "The Miracle" although Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer insists it holds screen rights. First National is said to have paid A. H. Woods, the theatrical producer, $137,500 for the piece.

Whoever wins the argument one company is sure to film the spectacle and the film colony is wondering who will fill the roles of "The Nun" and "The Madonna," played in this country by Rosamond Pinchot and Lady Diana Manners.

It is thought M-G-M plans to cast Lillian Gish as the Nun if it succeeds in proving a prior claim to Max Reinhardt's famous spectacle. Marion Davies also has expressed a hankering to do it.

What the movies will make of this gorgeous pageant is problematical. There is plenty of drama which will lend itself admirably to filming, but the wonderful color effects, the sensuous beauty and a large part of the atmosphere will be lost.

Should First National make the picture $2,000,000 will be spent on the production.

Will Rogers, Hollywood's intrepid mayor, and Douglas Fairbanks are starting a movement to put a wall around the city, to give it an added air of distinction. The plan if consummated will call for a wall of Spanish design with four main gates. Whether a pass signed by the mayor will be required to enter is as yet undecided.

SPORTS FIGURE IN RAILROAD LIST OF EVENTS

Athletic Recreation Attracting More Attention This Season Than Ever Before

Sports are attracting more attention in local railroad circles this season than ever before.

The latest addition to the sport section of the railroads here came a few weeks ago when John Zuck, clerk in the office of Supervisor F. A. Sparks of this district of the Hocking Valley, organized a basketball team and entered the Toledo Division league. The league is composed of four Hocking Valley teams, coming from Columbus, Toledo, Fostoria, and this city. Up to this season, local men did nothing but read about sports on other sections of the road. Now they take part.

The Hocking Valley and Pennsylvania railroaders have combined to organize a bowling team and take part in the Industrial League at the Y. M. C. A.

For League

The American Railway Express Co. is also represented in the Marion Industrial League by a bowling team.

The Railway Service, located in the Erie yards, has one of the greatest basketball team in the Marion Industrial League.

With a basketball team in a local league, two bowling teams in a local league, and another cage outfit in a divisional group, Marion railroad circles are well represented.

Special Hour

The special car carrying the baggage of Charles George's Sensations of 1927 was carried over the Erie yesterday between Newark and Ashland. The car was moved today from Ashland to Wooster.

Many Plan Trip

From advance reports, a large number of Marion residents are expecting to take advantage of the Big Four excursion to Niagara Falls, Friday, Feb. 11. Immediately after the first announcement concerning the excursion was published, inquiries were received at the local ticket office asking about the special train.

The train is to leave here late Friday night, arriving in Niagara at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. Return tickets are good until midnight, Sunday, Feb. 13.

The excursion is being offered in order to give all an opportunity to see Niagara Falls frozen over.

Rail Briefs

O. L. Enos, divison passenger agent, Kent division, Erie Railroad, was in Marion yesterday.

Local freight houses continued to report the increase and rush in freight traffic today. A great number of cars were interchanged yesterday between the Hocking Valley and Erie.

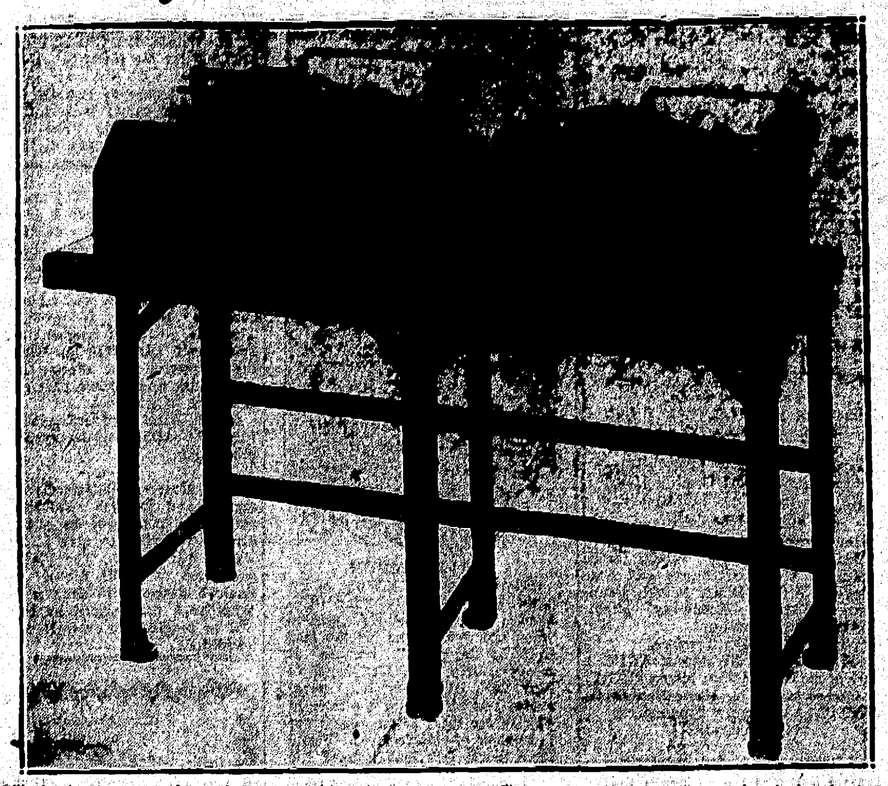
Amazing Telegraphic Printer Device Used By The Star To Better Service



NOT the least among the real wonders to be found a modern newspaper plant is the amazing automatic printer telegraph which brings to readers of The Marion Star the latest and complete news of the outside world, transmitted by cable and telegraph through International News Service.

The Star in the last two weeks has had installed in its office two of the new "printers," which are rapidly taking the place formerly occupied by the telegraph operators.

Not only do these "printers" serve The Star but they also furnish newspapers in Kenton, Fostoria, Delaware and Bucyrus with news, this news being sent by mail and traction service to these cities at various intervals during the day.

The fascination of printer telegraphy comes with a realization that the human hand has nothing to do with decoding and transcribing a typewritten sheet—accurate, punctuated, paragraphed and ready for the typesetting machines in a newspaper office.

Electrical Typewriters

An installation includes two machines, one for regular operation and the other emergency purposes. They are electrically controlled typewriters operating from what is known as the "opening and closing of a wire by magnet."

In Morse telegraphy the operator uses dots and dashes in his alphabet code. Printer machines use only dots. The sending machines are identical with receiving machines except that they have, in addition, sending keyboards, with the keys in almost the same arrangement as on the typewriter.

Magical Type

A narrow, especially prepared tape, of waxed or oiled paper, passes through a tiny perforating apparatus. When the sending operator presses a key of his "typewriter" this little instrument perforates the tape with the dots necessary to code that particular letter, and so on through the word and the paragraph and the complete story with all the rapidity and nimbleness of his fingers. The tape passes on a few inches farther to a delicate little instrument which "opens and closes the circuit by magnet," delivers to the wire the variety of dots each letter calls for and ripples out over to the wire to all receiving points, each copying instantly and simultaneously.

The typewriter carriage of each machine is so synchronized that it responds to a certain key pressed at the end of a line to space the copy and the carriage bounds back to start a new line. Copy paper is fed from a roll of heavy paper at the back of the carriage.

The editor at receiving points can tear copy off the machine story by story, paragraph by paragraph or line by line if he wishes. Of course, an editor is unlikely to want his story line by line, but it is conceivable that when there is a particularly important story along about the time when the newspaper must go to press, he can make speed in the composing room by short "takes" from the telegraph machine.

Like Piano Rolls

The action of the printer machines may best be visualized by a comparison with player piano rolls. Where the action of air and suction because of perforations in the music roll brings a corresponding action on the keys of the piano, a similar clicking of the electric transmitter, caused by the perforations in the printer machine tape, sends forth the music of the world's news.

Although the machines can be tuned to deliver as high as 55 words a minute, for all ordinary purposes and for accuracy in transmission they are set for a speed of approximately 35 words a minute. But unlike the human operator they do not take rest intervals or lunch, drilling right along through the day and silent only when the sending operator is "clear" and has no more news to transmit.

When the sending operator takes lunch or rest he proceeds to "punch" a quantity of tape ahead, enough so that in his absence the machines can run along, clicking off the world's news unceasingly without the touch of human hand.

Regulating Its Speed

There seems no limit to the possibilities opened up through printer telegraphy. It requires no special wires other than those used for ordinary long distance telephone calls or for the long-used Morse method of telegraphy.

Great speed has been obtained on some machines. In Pittsburgh all newspapers are served by their press associations with Morkrum machines. The machines can, if it is desired, copy at the rate of 100 words a minute but they have been tuned down to about 60 words a minute and still they "eat" up copy faster than the trunk wires and correspondents can supply it.

It is easily possible to deliver a report of 25,000 words a day on such machines, doing the work of two men receiving and copying by hand.

Radio Printer Next!

But the next and most startling step in news telegraphy is on the verge of adoption. It is radio printer telegraphy! Without the use of land wires whatever the present printer telegraph machines can by a few minor adjustments be turned to receive by radio a full news report. There are some barriers to immediate adoption but radio will overcome these barriers just as it has overcome such other obstacles as marked its early path.

International News Service has experimented for more than two years with radio transmission of news, with apparatus perfected by two experts in the New York headquarters. They have succeeded in sending from the same transmission keyboard as at present used, a full report by radio and by code which, when intercepted by receiving machines adjusted for the purpose, drops into the machines, is decoded and typewritten.

What magnificent opportunities this will open up for news transmission!

Before Taking S.S.S.

Blood count record made by a Pathological Laboratory of an actual case in which S. S. S. was demonstrated to be a powerful builder of red blood corpuscles. A patient was selected who was in a very run-down condition. His blood count was below 3,500,000. It should have been approximately 5,000,000. He was given S. S. S. At the end of the first week, it was above 3,500,000. At the end of the third week above 4,000,000. At the end of the fourth week above 4,250,000. At the end of the sixth week, the count was normal—5,000,000.

Loss of appetite, loss of strength, skin disorders, rheumatism, that "tired-feeling" and other human ills may be due to your blood not having enough red cells.

Pathological laboratories do not depend upon guess-work. They have means by which they can count the number of red corpuscles in a drop of blood. Every cubic millimeter of the normal, healthy human's blood should contain approximately 5,000,000 red corpuscles — those tiny red particles which flow along the blood stream, giving color to the blood, carrying nourishment to the cells of the body, and working against disease.

Recently, in one of the pathological laboratories of our country, the skilled scientists made tests to determine whether S.S.S. really does what its proprietors claim for it; namely, whether it actually increases the number of red corpuscles in the blood. They secured a number of persons in a rundown condition, examined their blood and found the red corpuscles count low. Without letting the patients know what they were taking, they put them on a course of S.S.S., and made constant new counts to determine the result.

Science has found that S.S.S. does what is claimed for it

The particular chart shown above is of a patient who was so "run-down" that the corpuscle count was less than three and one-half million at the beginning, but who, on a six weeks course of S.S.S. regained his normal blood count.

Thousands of people have a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, pimples and boils, rheumatism, and even more serious ailments.

S.S.S. has a proved record of over 100 years

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. There are no unproven theories about S.S.S. Each one of its several, selected ingredients has a distinct and particular purpose. An unusual and predominating feature about S.S.S. is that it is manufactured from the fresh herbs and barks, gathered from the forests and fields of Nature at the right season of the year when these particular herbs and barks are in the most favorable state for gathering.

The health-giving "juices" and extracts which are in S.S.S. have made it famous. For over 100 years it has served mankind in helping Nature build red blood corpuscles!

Get your blood right

If you desire firm flesh, glowing complexion, energy, vitality and the blessing of good health you must keep your blood in good condition. You owe it to yourself and your family to keep your system in tone,—to avoid that run-down condition that so often results in serious disease and disability. From S. S. S. users comes our slogan.

"S. S. S. makes you feel like yourself again."

S.S.S.

Is sold at every good drug store in the United States. The larger size bottle is more economical. If you are troubled with so-called skin disorders, rheumatism, or have that "tired feeling," try a few bottles of S. S. S. Seek energy, vitality, and that longed-for endurance through the time-tried vegetable remedy Nature has provided. Why not start taking S. S. S. today?

Revolutionists Demand Resignat on of Government

PORTUGUESE CLAIM SUCCESS IN COUP D'ETAT

American Legation Is Reported Safe in Dispatch to Washington

Madrid, Feb. 9—Demanding the immediate resignation of the Portuguese government and announcing the creation of a Republican government, the Portuguese insurrectionists have issued a manifesto claiming complete success in their coup d'etat, according to advices received here today.

The manifesto is signed by the "revolutionary committee," consisting of General Sousa Dias, Captain Jaime De Morais, Captain Jaime Cortsao, Captain Cesar Dalmeida and Pereira De Carvalho.

The manifesto declares:

"The revolutionary forces demand the immediate resignation of the government which has been fictitiously attempting to govern by relying on the army, instead of on the people for strength.

"We have restored the republic to constitutional normality and the sovereign will of the people.

"A republican government is being formed and will include Alvaro Castro, Pino De More, Norton De Mattos, Jaime De Morais, Alfonso De Castro, Mateo Cid, Jaime Cortsao, Tanagini Barbosa and Sousa Dias."

One report received here states that rebel troops tried to advance to the south of Valenka and were met by government troops and compelled to retreat. Some rebels have been forced to flee into Spanish territory.

Casualties Reported

Another report stated that there were 200 casualties in Oporto resulting from the bombardment which preceded the government's recapture of the city. The civilian population of Oporto, indignant at the bombardment, issued a manifesto of protest against the government and the action it had taken.

Garrisons on the outskirts of Lisbon rebelling threatened the city with shell fire, another dispatch stated.

General De Rovera advised the Spanish cabinet today that latest news from Portugal indicated the situation there to be extremely grave as numerous elements in Lisbon had joined the revolution.

Carmona Gone

It was reported that the dictator-president, General Carmona, has disappeared. He is believed to have fled the country.

Advices from Badajoz said that although the revolution had been suppressed in Oporto, where the movement began, it had extended to Lisbon, where the naval forces, the Republican guard and several infantry regiments joined the revolt.

Terrific street fighting was reported in progress in the center of Lisbon.

Another message from Vigo said the revolutionary movement had spread over almost the whole of Portugal. This report said Lisbon was in the hands of the revolutionists.

FIGHTING LASTING OVER 40 HOURS

London, Feb. 9—Fighting has been in progress in Lisbon for 40 hours and continues, declares a Lisbon dispatch today. This dispatch states that all cables and wireless stations are in the hands of the government.

A correspondent at Vigo states that 60 were killed and several hundred wounded during fighting at Oporto. Many houses were damaged by shellfire. A grenade burst in an asylum for girls, killing one girl and wounding another.

Another Vigo correspondent says the rebels at Oporto surrendered at 5 o'clock yesterday morning on condition that privates and non-commissioned officers among the rebels be freede from all responsibility.

U. S. LEGATIONS REPORTED SAFE

Washington, Feb. 9—All Americans and the legation staff in Portugal are safe, American Minister Fred M. Dearing reported to the state department today.

He said that heavy fighting and constant sniping continue between the government and revolutionary forces, with the government apparently victorious in Oporto and slowly winning in Lisbon.

The State department has not determined whether to send warships to Portugal to aid Americans.

An early message said: "Situation at Lisbon very serious and probably will continue so for several days. The minister has been obliged to abandon the legation, which was repeatedly struck by rifle and machine gun fire."

DESCRIBE SITUATION AS BEING GRAVE

London, Feb. 9—Information reaching London today indicated the situation in Portugal was increasing in gravity, although the exact status of the rebellion there, which began last week at Oporto, was not known, as the government at Lisbon was censoring all messages describing events.

Private messages received here show that the present revolt, unlike many previous uprisings, has political direction, rather than being confined to disaffection of units of the army and navy.

A dispatch from Vigo said the minister of war, leading the government troops, occupied Oporto at 8 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Occupation of the port city was preceded by a heavy bombardment which caused enormous property damage and many casualties.

Stabbed By Neuritis!

Many people suffer attacks by this archfiend, commonly called "nerve inflammation." The first warning is usually a sharp, stabbing pain, which may "come and go" or hurt constantly. You may feel it in the shoulder, neck, forearm, small of the back, or down the thigh and leg to the heel. It is sometimes mistaken for sciatica, rheumatism or neuralgia, which troubles often do end in neuritis.

No matter where you have nerve pains or what caused them, you can get quick relief without using narcotics or poisons. Apply Tysmol over the part that hurts and the pain will soon be gone.

Tysmol is absorbed through the pores of the skin. It has a soothing, healing effect upon the diseased nerves, gradually helping to restore them to healthy condition.

Don't suffer any longer. Get a supply of Tysmol at any good drug store. Price $1 everywhere.

HERE'S MORE ABOUT PROHIBITION ISSUE STARTS ON PAGE 1

too, that their cause may be hurt by rushing into battle too soon. Nevertheless none of the wets see any way of avoiding a slam-bang fight next year.

The drys, on the other hand, are eager for it, as evidenced by the speed with which Senator Borah leaped into leadership of the Republican drys. Many imprecations were heaped on Dr. Butler's head today, by these drys, although all declared their eagerness to accept "the challenge."

Wills Raps Butler

"Dr. Butler's prophecies may be lightly passed over," said Senator Willis, Republican of Ohio, the Anti-Saloon League's champion in the senate. "Heretofore his political prognostications have been as faulty as his political leadership has been disastrous.

"His pronouncements on the Eighteenth Amendment are eagerly quoted by every lawbreaker who seeks to cover his misdeeds with a cloak of borrowed responsibility.

"If any party should be so foolish as to follow his advice and nominate a wet presidential candidate the voters will not leave a grease-spot of that party, Dr. Butler, or Dr. Butler's candidate."

Borah's suggestion that both parties fight out the wet-and-dry question in the elections of delegates to the national conventions apparently found little favor with either Republicans or Democrats.

"I don't see any occasion to fight over the subject in the primaries," said Senator Bruce, Democrat, of Maryland, although I believe that Democrats can win if they nominate a wet. Fights in primaries only accentuate differences, create ill feeling and split the party. It is up to Democratic leaders in the convention to learn what the masses of the party desire. I know what Maryland wants."

"The prohibition question is one of the issues the states should have in mind in selecting delegates to the next convention," said Senator George, Democrat, of Georgia, a dry. "It seems that conditions demand that both parties shall declare themselves on this issue.

"I think the policy of the Democratic party will be determined by its declaration of principles and by the character and views of the men it sends to congress. Therefore, the delegates to the next convention should represent the views of their constituencies. I personally believe a majority of the states will select delegates pledged to retain the Eighteenth Amendment."

The keenness of the wet-and-dry controversy somewhat overshadowed today the other bold prediction of Dr. Butler—that President Coolidge's "common sense" would prevent his attempting to buck the third-term tradition. A good many Republicans in congress agreed with his prediction, though most of them did so privately.

Senator George H. Moses, Republican, of New Hampshire, was an exception to the rule of those who would only comment privately.

"I do not think President Coolidge will run for a third term," he said. "I base my opinion on the same reasons given by Dr. Butler and upon other fundamental reasons not stated by him. I do not, however, assume to speak for the president."

A complete and impenetrable silence prevailed at the White House concerning Dr. Butler's comments on the third term and upon prohibition. Mr. Coolidge has ignored all questions put to him concerning these matters.

APPEALS COURT UPHOLDS RULING IN SCHOOL CASE

Affirms Decision That Parents Must Send Children to School

The Court of Appeals has given a verdict upholding the lower courts in the Caledonia school case, wherein the law making it compulsory for parents to send their children to school was tested.

The case started by school authorities bringing charges against Clay Parr, of Caledonia, and his wife, for not sending their children to school. The case was first heard in justice court in Caledonia, and then carried to the Common Pleas Court, where the decision of the justice court that the children must be sent to school was upheld.

The case was carried to the Court of Appeals on error, and yesterday the Appellate Court decision was received, upholding the decision of the Common Pleas Court, and justice court, where it was ordered that the children be sent to school.

DOUBTS IF LEADERS WILL WRITE REPLIES

Peking, Feb. 9—No written reply to Secretary of State Kellogg's recent proposal to have Shanghai declared a neutral zone outside of the area of active fighting has been received from either Marshal Chang Tso-Lin or Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek, rival military leaders, John V. A. MacMurray, American minister to Peking, said today. MacMurray said he doubted if either militarist would make a written reply, as both feared to so commit themselves, although their oral replies had been given.

The Peking government is not collecting the customs surtaxes provided in the Washington agreement of 1921, probably due to the muddle caused by the recent dismissal of Sir Francis Aglen, chief customs collector, MacMurray said.

FAIR BOARD REVISES LOCAL PREMIUM LIST

Changes Are Made in Horse and Cattle Divisions at Conference

Premium lists for the county fair underwent some slight revisions by the fair board at a meeting at the County Farm Bureau yesterday. The changes made were mostly in the horse and cattle divisions, and the list, when completed will differ very little from the one used last year, it was reported today.

The poultry division was not taken up by the fair board members. A meeting of the Marion County Poultry Association will be held shortly, and that organization will draw up a list of premiums and present it to the fair board.

The premium list for the junior fair was drawn up by the agriculture teachers of the county schools and approved yesterday by the fair board.

H. S. Mahaffey, of Morral, president of the fair organization, presided at yesterday's meeting.

Announcement was also made today that the calf club, which shows at the junior fair each year, will start on March 1. Weighing of the animals will be completed by that time and feeding will start. The calf club this year consists of 25 boys and girls from the county schools. The club will include both steers and heifers this year, and will be governed by rules of the Cleveland junior livestock show, where some of the members of the calf club plan to show next winter.

in the Walter holdup, in which the two boys got $25, was sentenced to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster after his hearing before Judge L. B. McNeal in juvenile court.

The fourth indictment, which was returned on information furnished by one of the other boys involved in the series of robberies here recently, charges George R. Kesselring with the robbery of the C. W. Bricker Hardware store at Green Camp, March 21, 1926. Five auto tires, 15 boxes of cartridges, three flashlights and two watches were listed as missing after the robbery. Kesselring is charged in the indictment, which has two counts, with burglary, larceny and receiving and concealing stolen property.

After handing the report to Judge Scofield the grand jury was again allowed to recess, which makes jurors available for duty at any time. The grand jury which investigated the juvenile crime wave was the same as returned indictments at the opening of the January term of court. Judge Scofield thanked the jury for its work and said that he had found it so handy in this emergency that he would not discharge it, but allow it to recess again.

The report of the grand jury made after it had questioned the 17 witnesses called before it summarized what the members decided was the cause of and cure for juvenile criminal acts.

The case of Mr. Ford calls to mind one serious flaw in paragraphing. No one is liable to come around and insist that a spreader of joy and sunshine sell out to him for $1,000,000,000.

Some one has asked: "What will the McNary-Haugen bill, if passed, do to the country?" Out in the agricultural districts the burning question is: "What will it do to us farmers?"

The present hardly comes up to our anticipation of the severe winter predicted, but there's never any telling. The weatherman may be holding off to mass his dirty work at the tail end of the season.

The friends of Governor Smith, of New York, admit that McAdoo killed himself by his Toledo speech, but it's simply amazing how they are worrying over the activities of the remains.

Of course this talk about the confiscation of private stocks of real liquor is predicated on the supposition that one of these days some will be distilled to meet such a specification.

With the naval race apparently on again, we are just bound to regret those fine ships were destroyed. Still, crying over spilled milk will not avail us. The only course open is to forget them.

If "Uncle John" D. Rockefeller and "Uncle Henry" Ford ever toss up a time to decide the country-wide controversy as to which is the richer, it's our guess that "Uncle John" will furnish the dime.

It is now asserted that there wasn't any Mary, that there wasn't any little lamb or any schoolhouse to which Mary took her little lamb. What a joke on Mr. Ford to pay out his good money for a schoolhouse which wasn't!

Last Saturday night Australia, 11,400 miles away, heard radio signals with 100 per cent. accuracy sent out by Schnectady on a wave length of 32.79 meters which were inaudible 200 miles from the sending station. Who shall say that those who hold that other planets are seeking to reach us by radio are beyond the possibility of being right?

We Fell Down on the Job.

At the time we were making ready to enter into what is now termed the World war, we heard a lot about "making the world safe for democracy." We heard more or less along the same line during our participation in the war and while negotiations were in progress at Versailles. At times we yet come upon statements to the effect that our purpose in entering the war was to make the world safe for democracy. There no doubt were many who were honest in the belief that such was the purpose of this country in becoming a combatant, but we were not of the number. We never believed it. It was always our belief that we entered the war to avert the possibility of German world domination. We said at the time our entrance into the war was anticipated, that, if our purpose in entering the war was to make the world safe for democracy, we had better stay out of it, for the reason that it was no affair of ours what form of government any foreign nation should follow; that that was a matter each nation should decide for itself.

But if we did enter the war to make the world safe for democracy, evidences accumulate that we fell down terribly on the job. The latest witness to this effect is General Peyton C. March, former chief-of-staff of the United States army.

Home from a five-year tour of the seventeen major countries of Europe, just completed by him, General March stated in Denver, last week, that virtually every nation in Europe hates the United States, and that Europe is seeking a strong man such as Premier Mussolini, of Italy, to lead it in knocking "Uncle Sam's block off his shoulders."

"Mussolini, sprung up from the soil of Italy, has changed the face of his native country," said General March, "and every other country wants a Mussolini. We fought our great World war so that democracy might live, but the nations of the Old world are through with democracy. They want a dictator, a one-man government, a political Samson.

"Each nation wants its giant to thresh the hide of the United States. All Europe hates us, with the possible exception of Spain. European countries have stopped hating each other to unite in a grand hatefest on America."

As the years pass, it becomes more and more evident that the wisdom of permitting others to attend to their own affairs applies to nations as well as it does to individuals.

One of the World's Great.

Greatness may be achieved in many lines, in almost any field, but to our mind one who achieves along constructive lines to add to the sum of human happiness by simplifying life's labors, by multiplying its conveniences, by augmenting its pleasures and its joys without thought of undue material reward must be given a special niche among the world's great.

We do not mean that the inventor of this or that contrivance which has won favor in the eyes of mankind is necessarily great. There have been many simple inventions which have amassed great riches for those who thought them out, which have added to man's convenience, his pleasure and simplified his work and yet we would not call those to whom the world is indebted for them great.

A Baltimore man, by way of illustration, invented a cap for soda water bottles which he carried around in his pocket for six years, offering it here, there and everywhere before he could get it upon the market, where it ultimately made him a multi-millionaire. But we would not consider him great.

Another man found himself the possessor of an enormous fortune, when he interested a packing company in a tin can which he invented, so constructed that all that was necessary to open it was to strike a blow on its lid. There was no particular evidence of greatness in this.

A man named Heatin invented the little metal staple by which to attach buttons to shoes and made a fortune out of it. Another fortune was accumulated by the man who conceived the idea of putting a rubber tip on lead pencils to be used as an eraser. A great fortune accrued to the man who, noticing the tendency of straight hairpins to drop out of his wife's coiffure, added the crinks which keep hairpins in place. The little knob on the ends of hairpins to keep them from pricking the head, the little safety clutches to go over the pins of brooches and scarf pins, the glove-fasteners of today and the dress fasteners which supplanted the hook and eye—each of them added to the comfort of man or womankind and made fortunes for their inventors, but yet they hardly carried the distinction of greatness to those responsible for them.

But when we find one who has devoted almost sixty years to practical inventions, who has received the patent rights in this and many foreign lands on over 1,000 inventions, whose life has been almost inseparably linked with the history of telegraphy, telephony, mechanisms for recording the human voice and all other sounds and the reproduction of the same, who has scores upon scores of inventions to his credit unknown to the general run of men yet of almost inestimable value to science and the arts, whose inventions are in use the world over, to such a man we must pay the tribute of having attained greatness in the highest degree.

And thus it is that the world will pay tribute next Friday to Thomas Alva Edison, born at Milan, in this state, February 11, 1847, upon the occasion of his eightieth birthday.

It's sad, but none the less probably true, that both the United States and Great Britain shudder when they see themselves bracketed together as English-speaking nations.

According to the actuary of a well-known life insurance company, there were six times as many deaths from alcoholism in 1926 as there were in 1920. What! Is the bootleg stuff no more deadly than that? It has been libeled.

Aimee McPherson says Chicago is "bad, but interesting," but we more than half suspect that what she meant was "bad, but thrilling," for from what we have learned concerning her we take it that Aimee is strong for thrills.

Of course, Secretary Kellogg may be all wrong in his assumption that the Russian bolsheviki are behind the trouble in Mexico and Central America, but the way soviet Russia is yelling rather tends to show that she believes something has hit her.

We can hardly blame Ban Johnson for feeling sore that the American league has obligated itself to pay him a salary of $40,000 annually for the next eight years. It's enough to make any man mad to think the league is willing to give up money like that to get rid of him.

Mr. Butler has spoken, but up to a late hour today Mr. Coolidge had not affixed his O K to the declaration that the president is not a candidate for reelection to a second elective term.

All of us appreciate that "times change and we change with them," but occasionally a surprise is thrown into us. For illustration, we find Aguinaldo, the one-time chief foe of the United States in the Philippines, today the staunchest supporter of our government in the islands, causing the expulsion of Quezon, the present chief foe of our government in the islands, from the Filipino Veterans' association. Who would have believed it possible?

Poems That Live.

COME OUT WITH ME.

There's sun on the river and sun on the hill
You can hear the sea if you stand quite still!
There's eight new puppies at Roundabout farm—
And I saw an old sailor with only one arm!
But every one says: "Run along!"
"Run along, run along!"
All of them say: "Run along! I'm busy as can be."
Every one says: "Run along,
There's a little darling!"
If I'm a little darling, why don't they run with me?
There's wind on the river and wind on the hill
There's a dark dead water wheel under the mill!
I saw a fly which had just been drowned—
And I know where a rabbit goes into the ground!
But every one says: "Run along,"
"Run along, run along!"
All of them say: "Yes, dear," and never notice me.
Every one says: "Run along,
There's a little darling!"
If I'm a little darling, why don't they come and see?

FOUR YEARS MORE BAD LUCK?

Anthrax Headed by Inspection.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Our fathers and grandfathers endured and survived lots of diseases which were mysterious to them. They sought to find causes, and laid to the weather, the barometer and the phases of the moon many things which we know were almost entirely uninfluenced, certainly not caused, by such factors.

It was not until the general acceptance of the germ theory that men came to understand the whys and wherefores of disease. Many serious ailments can be traced to specific germs, and, what is more important, with this knowledge many conditions are preventable or curable which were inevitable in olden times.

There is a disease which is variously known as "splenic fever," "wool-sorter's disease," "chashon," and the more familiar name an-"thrax." This is one of the so-called germ diseases, being caused by the anthrax bacillus.

This disease is more frequently met in sheep and cattle, as well as other animals, than it is in men. The common name of this infection in human beings is "malignant pustule," or external anthrax.

Anthrax in animals is common in Russia and some other foreign countries. On this account the hair, wool and fur of animals from these sections is liable to be contaminated. Brushes, particularly shaving brushes, made from bristles from these countries have brought attention to the dangers of external anthrax.

A pimple is noticed at the point of inoculation. This becomes a pustified blister, surrounded by an area of swelling. This grows greater and more widely spread. It acts like a bad boil with several openings.

The whole system is poisoned and the victim may die within a few days. If he recovers the center of the swelling sloughs out and the wound slowly heals.

Internal anthrax attacks the intestines or lungs. Chill, fever, vomiting and profound illness are observed. Early death follows unless speedy improvement comes.

Fortunately, our strict health regulations—federal, state, provincial and municipal—are making diseases of this type more and more rare. When contagious disease is known to be prevalent in any part of the world some government agency is on guard to protect the home folks. This is true of animal and plant diseases, too. We can not be too commendatory of the agencies at work to protect the people of advanced countries.

In any form, anthrax is serious and it demands the constant care of a well-trained physician. The patient should submit himself to the treatment recommended.

The Way of the World.

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A Chicago woman is manager of a factory that makes pie crust. She knows the secret of good crust, and the "know-how" is making her rich. In two years enough crust has been sold to make more than 2,000,000 pies.

Now all this success began in a humble kitchen, where the woman learned to make good pie. She wasn't quite satisfied with good pie so she set out to make the best pie on earth.

It's the same old story. Doing the first little things well is the foundation work of all big business success.

A London man took out an insurance policy against the risk of having twins in the family. The twins came and the company paid the father $5,000. It is a matter of opinion whether he won or lost.

The amazing business of insurance is branching out. Man can now prepare for practically all of the emergencies and contingencies of life. The development of insurance is one of the major developments of civilization. Science has proved to us that we live in an orderly universe. Nothing happens by chance. Every planet has its course. It's all cause and effect, whether it's the fall of a tree or the fall of rain. Now that man knows his universe is dependable he is wise to guard himself against those causes which are sure to produce effects that will overwhelm him if he is not prepared.

There is a lot of sentimental balderdash talked and written about several students who have killed themselves lately. Some of them left pretty notes about their weariness with life and their desolation. The average self-slayer is just a weakling who hasn't the courage to face life when there is no soft spot immediately in sight. They have danced, but having no capacity for bearing trouble, they aren't men enough to pay the piper.

If there is anything worse than failure, it is to lack the courage to face failure.

Real faith is over and beyond all the immediate facts. Stick to your faith long enough and it is pretty certain that the facts will some day come to fit the faith.

Do you remember that remark of Robert Louis Stevenson:

"I believe in the ultimate decency of things, and if I awoke in hell I would still believe in it."

Twenty Years Ago.

This day was Saturday.

American warships sailed for the south looking to mediation between Nicaragua and Honduras.

It was charged that patients in the state asylum at Athens were brutally treated.

Miss Theo Gast returned to her home in Prospect after a visit of several months in California.

The office of the Dix-Mason company was destroyed by fire.

James Thompson was killed by an Erie train in the Galion east yards.

The Erie took off the special train it was running between Marion and Chicago when regular, No. 3 from the east was late two hours or more.

It was announced that Miss Charlotte Anderson, of Fremont, and Mr. Archie B. Curtis had been married in Fremont the preceding Sunday.

The C., D. and M. was planning to double its capital stock.

The Lima Eastern railway, a gasolene line, was thrown into the hands of a receiver.

Louis Guinette was signed to pitch for Marion.

The side of Sid and Billy's saloon at the corner of Main and Church streets was knocked out of plumb, one front show window of the place was shattered, Mr. and Mrs. William Lust were cut and bruised and their carriage was smashed when a team belonging to the Marion Lumber and Coal company became frightened and ran away.

Mrs. C. C. Pettit and Mrs. Martha Keller entertained at a tea at the Pettit home on south Main street.

Today's Worst Story.

BY WILL ROGERS

These here landlords must be tough birds. All the abuse they get, and they still do business at the same stands, and in the same way too, I reckon. Seems to me one of the best stories in the world would be about a landlord that was loved and respected by his tenants. But I ain't in a position where I can tell such a tale as that. It would take a guy who was known for generations as a truth-teller to get away with it.

There was a landlord that had the misfortune to have his tenant's doors made of green lumber, and so the doors shrunk a good deal. The tenant complained for six months, and the landlord gave him the stock answer. Said he'd fix 'em right away. So one day the tenant wrote the landlord a letter an' said:

"I've been complaining about how the mice and rats was running under the doors in our house, but now I got something more serious to report, and I hope you'll do something about it quick. One of our cats, chasing a rat, got caught under the dining-room door and squeezed near to death before we heard him yowling and got him out. It ain't fair to the cats to fix doors so's the rats can scoot under them and the cats is barred out. Send a man to jack up our doors about an inch, and give the cats a chance."—Copyright, 1927.

Some Questions of Interest Asked and Answered.

Q. Is there any definite meaning or superstition about a child born with a thin veil over his head? N. C.

A. According to olden superstition, a child born with a caul or veil over its head possessed the gift of second sight. The caul also was highly prized as a preventative, it being a current belief that the possessor could never be drowned. For his reason cauls were often sold for a large sum of money to seafaring folks.

Q. When writing a social letter on a typewriter, should one sign one's name with the same? W. H.

A. It is not considered good form to write a social letter on the typewriter. If, however, one has done so, it is not permissible to type the signature unless it be placed under the written signature. This is sometimes done when handwriting is a little illegible. A social letter should be signed, "Yours sincerely, Louise Carter Smith." If there is need of identifying the writer as the wife of her husband, the woman writes in parenthesis to the left of her signature—[Mrs. W. H.]

Q. I understand that the Red Cross in France makes some arrangement for the renting of baby supplies. Can you tell me anything of this? E. E.

A. The Besancon committee of the Red Cross in France has recently organized a cradle society. Through this French mothers may rent or borrow cradles, chairs, perambulators, clothes, scales, milk sterilizers and other articles required by very young babies. The idea has met with great favor and already nearly 300 babies have been supplied with many needs. In two-thirds of the cases there was no charge made.

Q. I understand there is to be held a poultry congress in Canada next year. Can you tell me anything of this? A. L. B.

A. The World's Poultry congress is to be held next summer at Ottawa, Ontario. Already sixteen countries have accepted invitations to send delegates and the United States has agreed to send 1,000 automobiles to take part in the tour which is being arranged from points on the United States border to Ottawa. The United States will also have an exhibit.

Q. Can weeds be controlled by producing large crops? R. M. K.

A. Generally speaking, the larger the crops the fewer the weeds present. This is especially true with small grain and hay, since good stands of these crops will tend to smother out weeds. Furthermore, pastures that are given good care by top dressings with fertilizers free from weed seeds and by close but not destructive grazing always contain fewer weeds and more grass than those poorly managed.

Q. What kind of grease or oil is used on iron or plaster Paris molds used in making fancy concrete castings? S. N.

A. The bureau of standards says in order to prevent concrete castings from adhering to iron or plaster of Paris molds a soap solution made dissolving as much soap as possible in hot water, or paraffin dissolved in gasolene, is employed.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Feb. 9—I have not been one to hail the silk stockinged youths of Gotham with a loud epistolary cheer, but it does strike me they are the best mannered young men of the town. They are by far the most considerate of elders and of those in humble places.

They may go the pace and silver filial hairs with their peccadillos, but they are not pushing old ladies off the sidewalk in their rush, waxing fresh with newsstand girls, roving Fifth avenue curbs in roadsters to pick up chance acquaintances or talking loud in cafes.

Nor do they wave $50 bills for the populace to behold before crossing the head waiter's palm. They have an inbred courtesy that is noticeable among the city slightly overdressed and underfed. Clerks like to wait on them because of their unfailing consideration.

There is no record of one being tossed out of a supper club for becoming a general nuisance. Neither are they those who slither Black Bottom steps and wriggle suggestively on crowded dance floors. In public they are sedate, even in sartorial effects.

On a Fifth avenue omnibus the other day was the scion of a family whose name makes financial marts tremble. A conductor started the bus before the youth could alight. "It is quite all right," he said, pleasantly. "It is only a short walk back."

I have seen officious men harangue conductors for several blocks at such mistakes. In my slight acquaintance among the rich youths I have yet to hear one boast—even in his cups—of a proud family name or bankroll. They are not little angels, but they are gentlemenly in public. And in this town that helps.

I have also noticed many of them go out of their way to perform little kindnesses among strangers on the highways. When they cut up, and they do very handsomely, at times, they seek the privacy of their sound-proof apartments. They are not, in a word, show-offs.

Madison avenue is shortly to have a dog shop with a special dog kitchen. An expert canine dietitian will furnish dishes for blooded pekes, poms, schnauzers, and the like, who spend their hours on silk window cushions in the purlieus of Park avenue's "Gold" coast. There will be messengers in uniforms with tambourine caps to deliver articles from the daily menus. There's a career—carrying food on a silver tray to a dog on his silk pallet!

A most interesting place in New York, incidentally, is the Bide-a-wee home for friendless and stray dogs and cats. Here the dog lover is privileged to select a pet from the barking and meowing rabble. Some of the best-trained dogs of circus and vaudeville were picked up there. They are watered and fed in sanitary, comfortable kennels. It has been said attendants can instantly spot a genuine dog or cat lover. Most of the cats are taken away by women.

Night club roysterers staggering home at dawn, appear to think it entertaining to hit close barber shop harmony with this refrain:

We're coming, we're coming, our brave little band
On the right side of temperance we now take our stand.
We don't use tobacco, for this we do think.
That them as does use it, most surely does drink.

A group of them on Fifty-Seventh street the other evening ran into a cop who evidently did not think the aria amusing, for he sent three home with goose egg knots and perfectly moused eyes.

LEGISLATURE NOT TO BOOST STATE GAS TAX

More Money Will be Sought by Increasing Franchise, Excise Taxes

Columbus, Feb. 9—The Ohio Legislature this session will not increase the state gasoline tax nor enact legislation placing a tax upon mortgages, if a tentative agreement existing here today among the majority members of both the senate and house is permitted to continue unchanged.

Frowning upon proposals to boost existing forms of taxation and opposing new methods of taxation, Republican senators and representatives, in separate caucuses, late Tuesday, agreed, for the time being at least, to limit legislative efforts along taxation lines to providing additional revenues for the state by increasing franchise and excise taxes.

Plan To Boost Tax

The present plan is to boost the corporation franchise tax to 3-20 of one per cent, from the existing rate of 1-12 of one per cent, and to increase the excise tax from 1.2 per cent to 1.5 per cent.

Legislative leaders estimated that these tax increases would provide sufficient revenue, along with other funds which will become available, not only to meet all operating expenses of the state government during the 18-month fiscal period beginning July 1, next, but to wipe out the big deficit, amounting to many millions of dollars, threatened in the state's general revenue fund this spring.

Present plans provide for legislation permitting use of $4,000,000 from the state gasoline tax fund for construction of highways. This, with a similar amount coming from the federal government, would make an additional amount of $8,000,000 for highway construction purposes. The present law restricts use of the state gasoline tax to maintenance of highways.

Bender Bill Up

The Bender bill, seeking to place justices of the peace and constables upon a salary basis, is in the hands of the senate judiciary committee today. Recommended for passage by the senate fees and salaries committee, of which Sen. George H. Bender, Cleveland, author of the bill, is chairman, it was called up on the question of passage late Tuesday in the senate. Claim then was made that the bill was unconstitutional because it sought to empower county commissioners to fix these salaries. The bill was sent to the judiciary committee after the senate voted down an amendment offered by Senator Bender fixing the salaries of the justices at from $300 to $1,800 a year.

The senate today will be asked to approve the action of the house which unanimously passed the Williamson supplementary appropriation bill carrying deficiency appropriations approximating $4,000,000.

LEADER IN UPRISING AT SULU IMS SURRENDERED

Datu Tahil Likely To Be Sent to San Ramon Prison as Result

Manila, P. I., Feb. 9—Deserted by his followers and denounced by his wife, Datu Tahil, leader of the short-lived uprising in Sulu province against the government, has surrendered to the constabulary it was reported here today.

Tahil's surrender followed closely the capture of Princess Tarhata, his wife, who is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Although the princess, since her capture, has taken full responsibility for the ill-fated rebellion, Datu, it was believed, will be sent to San Ramon prison under a long term sentence. Princess Tarhata said she inspired the revolt because Datu was expelled from the provincial council.

Galion Young People Gain Prominence at Colleges

Galion, Feb. 9—Several Galion young people have been gaining prominence in college circles and adding more activities to their lists of school doings, as the final months of the school year loom into view.

Fred Mackey, former athletic star of the local high school now a Senior at Ohio State university, has again been honored by election to one of the most active committees on the campus. The "committee of 88" recently revived after several years of inactivity has resumed its work of trying to establish closer relationship between the university and the home folks of Ohio. Working with other groups to "Boost Ohio" the "Committee of 88" will snap into action at once. Mackey, well known football player and captain-elect of the baseball team, was one of the first named on the committee.

A Galion girl, Miss Elizabeth Bland, has been winning distinction for dramatic talent at Ohio Wesleyan university where she is a freshman. In a recent production of "The Poor Little Rich Girl" by Eleanor Gates, Miss Bland carried an important male role as a dapper society man and gave an unusually fine portrayal.

Plans Progressing for New Country Club at Galion

Galion, Feb. 9—Plans for Galion's new country club are rapidly progressing and from all indications the club house and grounds should be ready for members by early spring. The directors at a recent meeting outlined plans for the summer season and selected Harry Erickson as caretaker of the club premises.

The club is located several miles southwest of the city of the Harding highway and consists of a large country estate and comfortable house which is to undergo improvements that will fit it for a clubhouse. A house for caddys with all the necessary fixtures will also be finished by spring and the golf course ready for first enthusiasts of the game. Although a new project for Galion the list of members is long and includes the city's most influential men.

Arrangements are being made for junior and non resident memberships and Galion women are to be given special rates.

At present a golf professional is in Galion and has been giving private lessons to those who are anxious to try out the new course as soon as opened.

With the new club in addition to Lake Galion and the several other nearby resorts sport lovers should find plenty to keep them busy during the

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

Jubilee has got a plan kinda flattened out in the snow under the window, so he didn't mind being let down by the rope in his teeth so much this morning. I bet he thinks when I let him down I go downstairs and set by a fire till it is time for me to go out and milk the cow and her dotter. I wish he could change places with me some Sunday morning, and could be a boy for a while and I could be a dog, and he would let me down out of the window and then go downstairs.

I bet he would be supprised when my ant grabbed him by the hair and started to wash his face to get him ready for Sunday School again. And then I wish he would turn back into a dog just when she was working on him the hardest. I bet she would step over the kitchen stove. But there are not any fairies to do things for a fella these days. Younims looks like one, and Feeble looks like a goblin, but that is all the good it does a fella.

We went to look at the valentines in the windows after school, but we could not see much of them because there was a lot of frost on the windows. We just stood there like a row of warts with our hands in our pockets and our snoots turned up looking.

The bunch wanted to go inside and look them over, but Younims and Feeble were along and I wouldn't do it. I don't want Younims to see me spend my six-bits for a valentine for her, and I don't want Feeble to see me spend it for a valentine for Younims. But they are always along with us, and next Monday is the day, and that night we go round to houses and leave them on the steps. I am not going to leave Younisses on the step, because she might not find out who sent it. Or someone might come along to leave her one and see my nice one there and swipe that.

Darcus Green who is silly and wears whiskers was leaning on the school fence when we came out. He is not silly because he wears whiskers, and he don't wear whiskers because he is silly. He is just silly, but he is always good natured and smiles. My mother says he has got the brain of a two year old child. I would like to know what the two year old child has got.

Feeble told him to let her make him look nice, so she bridled his whiskers in a lot of little pigtails, and she braided his mustache and whiskers together acrosst his mouth, and he looked proud and tried to thank her and couldn't open his face, so he began to cry, and she unbraided them, and then he smiled again. Some fellas have all the luck. If I was silly I wouldn't have to go to school or do anything. Feeble said she was ashamed when he hollered. So was I.

Daily Bedtime Story

BY HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

"Dear me, Susie," said Mrs. Littletail, the rabbit lady one morning as she was getting her child ready for school "you are getting to be quite a big girl. You are positively getting fat!" and Mrs. Littletail grunted a bit as she tried to make the two ends of Susie's red silk sash meet around Susie's waist.

"Yes, mother, I am getting bigger," answered Susie. "I guess I'll need a new sash soon. Please could I stop at the six and seven cent store on myway home from school and order one?"

"I'm afraid not, Susie," Mrs. Littletail answered, shaking her head as she fastened the sash together with two safety pins. Once the red sash would easily have gone around Susie with enough left over for a bow to be tied with the ends. But now—well, times change!

"Why can't I get a new sash, mother?" pouted Susie.

"Because your father hasn't the money," was the answer. "This has been a hard winter. We shall scarcely have carrots enough to last until spring when we can get green clover to eat. Your father must save his money to buy carrots, and they are very dear. He cannot afford to get you a new ribbon sash."

"Oh dear!" thought Susie, but she didn't say it out loud, which shows that she was a thoughtful little rabbit child.

"There, now, run along to school," her mother said. "But don't stoop over."

"Why not?" asked Susie, thinking what she would do if she were a princess and could order as many sashes as she pleased from the six and seven cent store.

"You must not stoop or bend over," warned Mrs. Littletail, "because if you do you are so fat you may burst your sash, which I had to pull pretty tight to get around you. And the safety pins may snap loose and hit the Lady Mouse Teach on the nose. So don't bend over."

"I won't, Mother," promised Susie and then she ran on to school so she wouldn't be late. Half way to the hollow stump where the Lady Mouse Teacher taught the animal boys their lessons, Susie caught up to Uncle Wiggily who was going to visit the school.

"My goodness, Susie!" exclaimed the rabbit gentleman, looking down at her. "You are all out of breath! You don't need to be in such a hurry. It is early yet—you won't be late."

"It isn't running that makes me out of breath!" panted Susie. "It's my sash that is too tight."

"Why don't you loosen it then?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Because," said Susie and that was all she would say. She didn't want to tell about the sash being too old and too short, for fear Uncle Wiggily would think she was hinting for a new one.

Just then the last bell began to ring, and Uncle Wiggily, looking at his watch, found that it was slow, so after all, Susie had to run so she wouldn't be late, and Uncle Wiggily hopping along beside her.

Running with a tight sash around her waist, made Susie more out of breath than ever, and when she and the bunny gentleman reached the school yard, Susie could hardly breathe, to say nothing of talk. But no one seemed to notice her, for all the animal boys and girls were running up and down and sideways and around very much excited, and the Lady Mouse Teacher was witching her tail around, also much excited, and when Uncle Wiggily asked what was the matter, Miss Mouse said:

"Baby Bunty has fallen down the well!"

"Oh, my pink, twinkling nose!" cried Mr. Longears.

"It's all right—she isn't drowned, for the water in the well is frozen," said Miss Mouse. "But we can't pull Baby Bunty out of the well without a rope or something!"

"Here's my sash—take—take—that!" panted Susie, stooping over and handing so that two safety pins bent, pulled out and off dropped the red piece of silk. Luckily the safety pins hit no one.

Uncle Wiggily quickly caught up Susie's sash, dropped one end into the school well to Baby Bunty who, far down, was standing on top of the ice, and the rabbit called.

"Catch hold of the sash, Baby Bunty, and I'll pull you out of the well!" And this he did as nicely as you please. Baby Bunty, who had fallen in the well when she leaned too far over to look down, was very glad to be up and out of it, and not at all hurt. And when Susie went to put on her sash again, lo and behold! It had stretched so that it was large enough for her and she didn't have to buy a new one. So it all came out right, thanks to the pulling Uncle Wiggily and Baby Bunty gave the red sash.

And if the tack hammer doesn't hit the cabbage on the head when it is trying to make an automobile out of the dishpan, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Johnnie's pump.

There are men who almost never tell a lie, but when they do, it counts.
